METHOD

Arnold is carving out something of a reputation for Roter Veltliner, a pink-skinned grape unrelated to Grüner and grown almost exclusively in Wagram. This comes from the Eisenhut vineyard and was made entirely in stainless steel, cool fermentation no higher than 18°C for 2-3 weeks. Wine then stored on fine lees for 2-3 months before light filtration and bottling.

TASTING NOTES

Roter Veltliner produces dry white wines with serious weight and richness. This has spicy, smoky yet delicate white flower aroma with typically full-bodied tropical fruit flavours – think mango, pineapple and passion fruit.

VICTUALS

Lobster, spicy pork dishes or a traditional schnitzel.
